Central financial assistance in the form of subsidies to houses installing solar rooftop cial institutions that will lend to households seeking solar rooftop systems. Business Standard reported recently. Apart from the eight public-sector utilities (PSUs) under the aegis of the Ministry of Power will take forward this scheme in several states, the power ministry's decision also states that 'model solar villages' will be developed in each district of the country to act as role models for the adoption of rooftop solar in rural areas...

The proposed scheme will result in the addition of 30 gigawatt (Gw) of solar capacity through rooftop solar in the residential sector, generating 100 billion units of electricity and resulting in a reduction of 720 million tonnes of carbon dioxide-equivalent emissions over the 25-year lifetime of rooftop systems, read the government's statement...

'The PM Surya Ghar Muft Bijli Yojana aims at those whose electricity consumption is less than 800 units, which are lower and lower-middle-class households in urban areas. For this economic stratum, taking a loan for solar or setting up solar on their rooftop is difficult. So we are increasing the loan component, and we are designating our PSUs to implement it', power ministry officials said earlier this month...

SC says no automatic vacation of stay orders of trial courts, HC's

BHAVANI MISHRA New Delhi, 29 February

A five-judge Bench of the Supreme Court (SC) overruled its own three-judge judgment on Thursday and declared that a stay order once issued by a high court (HC) in both civil and criminal cases does not automatically stand vacated in six months. The court overruled its Asian Resurfacing Limited v. JCB India Ltd. (2018), which mandated that interim orders passed by HC's staying trials in civil and criminal cases would automatically expire after six months from the order's date unless expressly extended by the HC's. 'A direction that all interim orders passed by HCs will automatically expire on the lapse of time cannot be issued in exercise of powers under Article 142 of the Constitution,' the Bench of Chief Justice D Y Chandrachud, and Justices Abhay S Oka, J B Fardiwala, Pranjay Mishra, and Manoj Misra ruled...

The court observed that constitutional courts should refrain from laying down time-bound deadlines for cases being heard by any other court, and such directions can only be issued in exceptional circumstances. The court stated that trial courts, being familiar with grassroots situations, are better positioned to determine which cases should be heard on priority.
